

I oppose loosening the rules designed to promote and protect diversity of media ownership. These rules were adopted to ensure that the public would receive a diverse range of viewpoints from the media, and not simply the opinions of a handful of media conglomerates.

Allowing large corporations to control virtually all we see and hear via media is tantamount to robbing the population of the truth. It can only lead to unhealthy competition and manipulation of reality. I strongly object to any further relaxation of media ownership rules.